

DARTMOUTH ROYAL REGATTA SAILING WEEK

Entries still open, Regatta wristbands, and some activities for when you're not racing

12th August 2023

Dear Friends of Dartmouth Royal Regatta Sailing Week,

With the start of Dartmouth Sailing Week only a week away, we are busy preparing to welcome you, and looking forward to an exciting week of competition on the water and sociable times at our clubs and in town.

Entries for all events are strong, with the Yacht Series and the White Sail Event above last year's numbers already. Entries are still open (dartmouthsailingweek.com/how-to-enter/ or webcollect.org.uk/dartmouthsailingweek). Please note that a late entry fee becomes payable from Monday 14th August for the yachts, day sailing boats and dinghies, and from 19th August for the junior dinghies. Getting your entries in as soon as possible helps us hugely with planning.

If you are looking for crew or for a crewing opportunity, there are a number of listings on our Crew Search page. To advertise please send your details to info@dartmouthsailingweek.com.

Come along to collect your Regatta wristband for skippers and crew from Reception – open at RDYC from 11:00 on Tuesday, and until 20:00 on Wednesday after the Skipper's briefing. You'll be able to put it to good use straight away – enjoy drinks 🍹 🍷 🍸 at members discounted prices at the RDYC and DYC bars, PLUS it gives you a discount code for purchases from our sponsor Henri Lloyd (20% off full price items and 10% extra for sale items). Yacht skippers can collect wristbands for all their crew members, together with their SI booklet, and they'll also be available for entrants in all events, junior dinghy parents, and for dinghy competitors at DSC.

We are delighted to be welcoming photographer Ingrid Abery. With her many years experience of marine action photography, and many front cover images for the likes of Yachts & Yachting and Classic Boat, combined with our beautiful Devon coastline scenery, we are assured of some stunning images.

While not racing, there are many events to take part in, or just to relax and enjoy watching. Among others - the start line for ocean rowing will be off RDYC on Saturday 19th, the waterborne treasure hunt is once again based at DYC on Wednesday, and on Thursday, St Petrox Church by Dartmouth Castle will be the beautiful setting for a Son et Lumiere performance (entry free and drinks available, donations in aid of St Petrox encouraged, please bring plenty of cash!) More information on all activities at www.dartmouthregatta.co.uk/ and the printed programme will be available soon from various venues including Kingswear Post Office.

The weather outlook is currently uncertain, but the BBC Outlook suggests a regatta week with the “possibility of high pressure building for a while to give somewhat drier conditions” and temperatures “near or slightly above the seasonal average” – which doesn’t sound too bad after the summer we’ve had!

With best wishes,

JRSC (Joint Regatta Sailing Committee)
